Tester models

Models capable analyzing existing codebase, writing unit and all other tests for it (full automation as well) and finally running it to verify software integrity.